

The Bookish and the Brave

The Bookends, founded in 1370 by @Mirrium the silver dragon, are a dual organization within Bald Top Library. In light, their mission is to protect the citadel from all who would oppose the progress and preservation of knowledge, wisdom and truth.

In shadow, the Bookends run errands and missions to clear out threats to the library's power.

The leader of the organization is simply called the Keeper. Their job is to act as a living contract between the library and the universe to keep control of the current knowledge of the day. The leader is assigned once every 1000 years by itself in which the spirit of the keeper leaves its previous host and embodies another.

No one contacts the keeper but most assume that the higher ranking masters and readers report to it.
